

What is home nursing?

Home nursing delivers the medical attention that chronically ill patients require. In-home assistance includes a wide range of services from proper prescription monitoring to mobility assistance and more. Home nursing is superior to other forms of care because patients continue to live independently in the comfort of their own homes. Registered nurses (RNs) or licensed practical nurses (LPNs) deliver health care during duty shifts that vary from four to 24 hours per day.

Professional Case Management

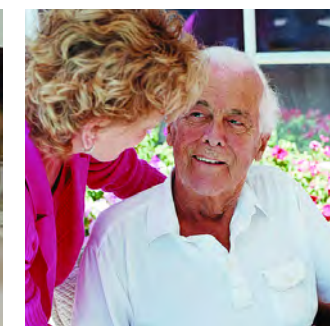

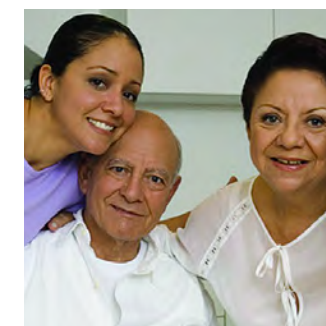

PCM delivers a broad range of in-home nursing services to a variety of patients enrolled in various government, institutional and private-sector programs including:

- Defense industry workers covered under the federal EEOICP and RECA programs
- The Federal Black Lung Medical Benefits Program
- Federal employee workers' compensation programs
- Third-party health-plans
- Preferred provider networks
- Private pay contracts

PCM brings a wealth of expertise in the timely administration of program benefits reducing headaches and speeding the delivery of care. Our clients tell us they appreciate our help in navigating the complicated maze of care opportunities.

SAFETY

"I had to drive every day to see my husband when he was in the nursing home. I couldn't physically care for him any more, but Professional Case Management made it possible to bring him home to me."

— Joan M., Nucla, CO

RELAXED

Virtually everyone has felt the bite of higher health care costs. That's why families need to take measures to protect their assets — assets they need to cover living expenses, or assets they want to pass on to loved ones.

"My brothers and I were being forced to sell our family ranch in order to pay for the care Dad required. Professional Case Management was able to provide the home care he needed at no cost to our family, and that saved our land."

— Linda S., Moab, UT

PERSONALIZED

"When my dad got sick, I had to quit my job and move to his town to care for him. After PCM started taking care of his medical needs at home, I was able to go back to work with the confidence that he's in good hands."

— Jim J., Oak Ridge, TN

"My father was only receiving care a couple of days a week from hospice. He needs it every day and Professional Case Management helped me keep him home to get the daily care he needs."

— Rose G., Grants, NM
